Many of the visiting Pythian sisters were much better looking than they were pictured in Boston papers.

Our advice to gamblers is this: If you must lose your head, lose it in an accident rather than before.

The new code of foot ball rules are said to have but few changes in them, consequently we may look for the usual amount of broken bones this fall.

What is an "ordinary bet"? What is gambling? According to Justice Gaynor of the Supreme Court of New York an "ordinary bet" is not gambling as he construes the anti-gambling laws enacted by the last Legislature.

There are some very nice things being said of the three aspirants for the Republican nomination as Lieutenant Governor, but the best we have seen thus far is the following from the Springfield Union: "It can be truthfully said that in many respects Frothingham is the counterpart of Wolcott."

The Geo. E. Keith Co. Factory.

The new enterprise is being pushed as rapidly as possible. Engineers and our executors have mapped out plans work this week and a carload is expected for primary work in the foundation has arrived.

Wharf site has been selected for which for more than 200 years has been a private way to the water front. The plan is to make a public road and, in this way, shorten the water front distance of 1½ miles. The cost of the plan is estimated at $100,000.

In English Morse's time his attention was called to the condition of the river, and under his direction a survey was made and he recommended $100,000 for completing the work to the wharf. Mr. Morse got an appropriation of $12,000 which was expended at and below the Brandy works. On present evidence, Congressmen, Hon. John W. Evans took up the work and got $100,000 for it two years ago and now to facilitate business and see the work completed we ought to have the balance and have the river as good as it was when a regular packet line ran from the wharf to Boston and other places.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Delphi Council, Uniform Rank and Sisters of the Order at Boston.

This has been a busy week for the various organizations working in the name of Knights of Pythias, and Weymouth has figured well in the several events which have taken place in Boston.

On Tuesday the Uniform Rank under command of Capt. Ashworth, with Capt. H. Hyland 1st Lieut., and Lawrence W. Spaulding 2d Lieut., made a good appearance in the parade.

Wednesday, however, was the real parade day as it was on a much more elaborate scale. Delphi Lodge was in the third division of which R. B. Worster was an aid to the chief marshal, Charles T. Bailey was marshal of the lodge and he had as assistant Capt. Ashworth of the Uniform Rank. The Lodge wore dark trousers, white shirts, white ties, white felt hats, and marched to the music of the Columbian Fifes and Drums corps of South Weymouth, reciting a good share of the pyramids of those who thronged the sidewalks, or looked down from windows and the stands built along the line of march.

The following charter members were relieved from the long march by being given a carriage: Charles Smith, Remond Tirrell, P. H. Linton, A. A. Linton and E. Monroe Thayer, T. P. Pease and Elbridge Richards of the charter members were unable to attend.

George Horne, chancellor commander, and W. E. Pray, past chancellor, were in the receiving line of the Supreme Lodge at a reception held in Grand Hall, Mechanics building.

School Committee.

The regular meeting of the school committee was held Tuesday evening. All the members were present. The bids for furnishing coal for the schools were opened. There were but two bidders. The contract was awarded to the lowest bidders: A. J. Nash's list. The resolution of Miss Eliza L. Minard 7th grade Athens school was accepted. A. E. Templeton was elected science teacher at the high school at a salary of $800.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

The column under this title will be given to the people for a free expression of any and all subjects, and the author will be responsible for the opinions expressed.

Editor of Gazette and Transcript

I have noticed in your issue of July 24, in the People's Column, an article relating to the development of the water front of our town.

Too much can hardly be said of the possibilities we have of improving and beautifying what is undoubtedly one of our most valuable assets; though we have been slow in recognizing it as such.

I agree with Mr. Bailey in his view of the desirability of having good roads, a most important factor in this development. The time will probably come when we shall have a boulevard along this water front, but in the meantime, by no means are all of the paths which need to be traveled town ways. The path along Rose Hill makes no pretense of being a town way and no one need have any apprehension of the town being responsible for any accident which may happen there.

WEYMOUTH HISTORY.

An Abstract of Town Record, from its Earliest Settlement.

CHAPTER XL.

March 2d, 1778.—Josiah Waterman chosen town clerk, Abijah Whitman, treasurer, James Humphrey, Capt. Tufts, Nathaniel Hayley, John Vinton & Asa White chosen a committee to devise means to raise soldiers for the army.

"Voted to raise $124 for men garrisoning the stores near Boston."

"Voted to pay the soldiers with Capt. Tom 2¢ a month."

May 13th.—Brigadier Solomon Lovell elected Representative.

"Voted to raise $200 for schools to be divided in the two Precincts in proportion to whom each shall have."

"Voted to raise $500 for support of the Poor and other town charges."

"The breakaway system of the early days was an economic factor and the present generation know but little of the old system of state banks etc.—We find here this record."

"Voted that the constables do the best they can not to take counterfeit money but if any fall into their hands or the hands of the treasurer if he remits?"

Constables were then collectors of taxes and other town rates.

"Voted that Dr. Tufts be allowed to set up a hospital for Encouraging to the Small Fox if he pleases at a convenient place."

May 25th.—Special Town Meeting.

"Voted to raise $150 for the purpose of paying men to go to General Washington and other places."

"Voted that Eliaz Weston & Samuel White be a committee to go out of town to live men for the Continental army and that they be allowed to pay every man that shall be so hired to join Genl. Washington for the term of one month, the sum of $100 or to agree with them at $100 per month, and to pay them in Boston and York, Indian Creek & Ry., Sheep's Wool & Flax & Cord Wool at the price these articles were at when the war began."

The last winter of '78 and '79 was not approaching and things were looking dark for Weymouth and her army, hence a call for more men and more money, and a special town meeting was called for Nov. 1st, when it was voted to raise $1000 and the treasurer gave his note and the town's security for the same for raising the quota and defraying the expense.

At the March meeting in 1779 there was but little change in the long list of town officers and committees.

There was however one new feature.

For more than 150 years the town had cared for its poor by assisting them in their homes or boarding them out to the lowest bidder, but at this meeting a new move was made and we find the following:

"Voted to build a Work House, Isaac French, David Blanchard, Capt. Asa White, Eliz. Eliz. Baten & Jacob Loud be a committee to ascertain the number of the Poor & to consult what sort of a house will be proper to build and where to set it and count the cost and report at the adjournment."

It was voted to let out the rivers and landing places and Back River was let out to Eliz. Bates and Fore River to Capt. West each to collect per ton for all full wood shipped and 18¢ per ton for lay and timber of all kinds. $15 should be turned in to the town's treasurer.

Adjourned meeting March 26th.—Com. adjourned on Work House reported recommendations of building 50 feet long and 16 wide with one story high with a cellar under the two middle stories of said house, fifteen feet wide and twenty feet long.

"Voted to let out the building to the lowest bidder first giving public notice of the same also to agree with persons for building material to be delivered on the adjournment."

"Voted to raise $100 £ for building House."

"Voted that the treasurer destroy the counterfeited money on his hands."

"Voted to lengthen the Work House 5' or 6' feet in order to make 2 bed rooms."

May 18th 1779.—Brigadier Solomon Lovell elected Representative.

"Voted to raise $300 for schools and divide the same between the two Precincts in proportion to what they pay."

"Voted to raise $2000 for support of poor and other town charges."

July 22d, 1779.—Special town meeting for that purpose.

"James Humphrey Esq. was elected to represent the Town in a State Convention to be held at Cambridge in the county of Middlesex on the first day of Sept. next for the purpose of forming a constitution of Government."

Another special town meeting was held Oct. 18th to make further arrangements in regard to the poor and the Work House and after voting to discontinue assistance to one widow and allow two others to remain when they were with a little town help it was voted to remove all others with their families to the work house.

"Voted that John Tirrell and his son, John, have the oversight of the Work House."

"Voted that the selectmen make rules and orders for the government of the Work House."

"Voted that the selectmen draw money out of the Town's Treasury to furnish the poor with steam to work with and material to work on."

In our list of Revolutionary Soldiers said published last week we should have said it was a list of those whose burial or graves have been located in Weymouth and are identified with markers of the Sons of the American Revolution. In General Lamb's history of Weymouth as published in 1881 he has a much larger list and even that, says the list of soldiers credited to Weymouth is very incomplete as many of the men were hired from outside and the list is imperfect, we add how ever the names of Mr. Nash's list which were not included in that published last week. Many of them of course are connected with Weymouth families either present or past.

New England.

The hills of New England.

How proudly they rise.

In the distance, the forest floor!

With their skies outlined.

And tall ancient trees—

New England, my country,

I love thee for thy green.

The vale of New England.

How sweet thy streams,

That smile in their greenness,

Like land in our dreams.

All sunny with pleasure.

England, my country,

I love thee for thy brain.

Rev. Oliver Hackel, D. D.

Mr. Hackel's sermon at the Union Congregational Church was a most happy selection from his library. The discourse evidently pleased the preacher's own constituency of the dignity and beauty of human life. He delivered it eloquently and effectively because he believed in it and felt it. Why did not give the text and a hint at the subject-matter? Because the whole of the sermon, and nothing less than the whole, is needed to fill the minds of the hearers and to show how the thoughts, that seemed merely fanciful or poetical in their application, the congregation was entirely beguiled by delegations from other Braintree and Weymouth churches and favorite old hymns were sung with enthusiasm.

Hobley D. Evans is now a citizen and makes a fine picture in citizen's clothes and yet when future ages tell the story of the American navy and its achievements they will mention "Hob" Evans as a small factor in giving the navy a reputation to be proud of.

The political situation has not changed materially in the week. The three candidates for the Republican nomination as Lieutenant Governor are still in the field and one speaking of his outlook says "I am not quite satisfied," the third says "I am more pleased." The outsiders, however, keep on guessing.

A leading candidate for political honor presumed too much on the gullibility of the people if he said what he is reported to have said. "The state tax has nearly doubled the taxes on the people." Heaven knows, and the people know, that the legislature has been lavish in appropriations and it is time to call a halt; but "double" is too large a word to use, as the state tax on this town for the year adds a little less than $1 to our tax rate. If the assessors find a high tax rate this year it is not the county or state which is responsible, but our own town meetings.

Selectmen's Hearing.

The selectmen gave a hearing Monday, on the petition of the Old Colony Street Hallway Company to be allowed to act as common carriers of newspapers, baggage, express matter and freight upon its several lines in this town. The entire board were present with Gordon Willis in the chair. Bradford Hawes, clerk of the board, read the petition and call for the meeting and the hearing was opened. T. Conway, superintendent of the street railroad, made an extended statement of their wants and plan of work, should the franchise be granted.

The Geo. E. Keith Co., which will occupy the new and spacious shoe factory on which work is being passed, was represented by Howard F. Johnson of Brockton, in favoring the movement as of material advantage to business interests. Among the citizens present were W. F. Thomas of North Weymouth, and D. M. Easton, who spoke in favor of the proposition.

Mr. Willis called for any opposition there might be to granting the petition and no one responded.

The selectmen took the matter under consideration but as yet have taken no definite action.

Heavy Artillery Reunion.

Company A, First Battalion of Mass. Vol. Heavy Artillery took no incompliances part in the war scenes of '61 to '65 and the like which bound its men together grow no less among the survivors as the years go by. Each year brings the survivors together again to look into each other's faces, grasp hands, banquet and tell the old, but ever new story.

J. L. Loring, of East Braintree, was among the earliest of the men to go to the front and in the above named hallways he formed the idea which made him secretary of the Battalion Association, which held its twenty-third reunion at Kingsley Hall, Boston, yesterday. An Abstract of Town Records from its Earliest Settlement.

CHAPTER XLIV.

The town was now 160 years old but still voted to allow boys to run at large provided they were properly spoken.

Voted that Mr. Silvans be allowed to set up a leather shop at the Itals' Bates Clapp Memorial building, on Middle street. Shoe Industry.

The outcome for the boot and shoe trade is more promising than heretofore. In spite of the fact that Boston's shoe shipments this year are almost a million cases behind the record of last year, there is an increasing activity, which brings more courage. Dealers and manufacturers look for continued improvement in their respective fields of business because there must be a shortage of shoes in the homes, if not in the trade, and there is a limit to the duration of that shortage.

Don't say "Mowhawk" or "upstarts." There are no states on ship board only ladders. Say "below" or "up deck."

Looking forward - Is he toward the left or the right hand? Is he "straight" or "left hand" port." Everything on board ship is straight or port, except with reference to a gun, where "right" and "left" are used as on shore, the guns being movable.

Keep clear of the starboard side of the quarter deck. The quarter deck is the after end of the quarter deck. Its starboard side is starboard or port, except with reference to a gun, where "right" and "left" are used as on shore, the guns being movable.

Never peep into the officers' private quarters. They are no more to be entered than any private citizen's home. They can be entered only by invitation.

Keep your hands off the bright brass work, the polished guns and the clean paint work. Remember that Jack Tar has to put in hard labor every day keeping these clean. Do not burr any nail or spike into the deck.

Be not expectorate on the decks, for hideous smell hangs about the ship.

Never dream of tipping a man who shows you about the ship. He is sufficiently educated by the enterprising merchant to give you men's wear and articles of clothing, which make considerably more than most of the stars, garters, etc., of the old world. These are medals for bravery.

Besides the medals for conspicuous bravery in battle and the decorations for life saving on the water, the chief decorations are the sword and women who display heroism on the railroad lines of the country.

Award of the decorations is made by the chief executive on recommendation from the interstate commerce commission, by affidavits from eyewitnesses of the acts, and they must be signed by a committee of five of the commissioners.

Some packers have made sales ahead for a month or more.

Orange Blossoms

By FRANK H. SWEET.

The car of the business and social world is attuned to the sound of the "Bell."

If you would command the world's attention—RING!

"Be Sure You're Right, Etc."

Ever notice what queer pranks in transposing figures your mind will play?

Take three numbers—1468, 1516, 6248, for example. Now dismiss them from your mind for a minute and then try to recall them.

How easily you wonder whether it wasn't "1468," or "1156," or "16248"?

That's one reason why telephone subscribers are asked to consult the directory before giving a number—because this peculiar psychological trait is almost certain to lead to strong number calls.

Such calls are not merely an annoyance but an economic waste. They abuse the patience of the person thus needlessly disturbed; they consume (instead of save) the time of the caller; and they burden the Telephone Company with additional operating expense.

Another reason why the directory should be consulted is found in the fact that telephone numbers occasionally are changed.

If you take pains to ascertain the correct number desired and then pronounce it distinctly, in 999 cases out of 1000 you will get the correct connection.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company is one link in the chain of the great "Bell System," and in the state of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts is connected with 300,000 telephones.

It was not until after he began cornering the orange market that the disaster was made. He remembered but vaguely the first instance when his head with his back to him. After all, he had half a mind to strike him to know how many more. His wife and daughter might be pitted against him far as he knew. Such things were common in the books he had read and the plays he had seen.

He did not know whether to be glad or sorry that his head had read all the news dealing with the stock market entanglements and gone to modern business papers appearing at the conclusion, having endeavored to leave his children, particularly his son Fred, in simple honesty and without too much knowledge of business life from the present time?
